Launch Day Plus a few hours

Up

Greetings everyone,

I would like to thank the brave souls that have attempted to sign up for the event.

We have seen a few signups fail on the payment side. I have contacted Square our processing agent for the Credit cards and they report all transactions that have failed have been declined on the Credit Card side not the Square side. So if you are having an issue please contact your Credit Card issuer and hopefully you can solve the issue.

We have successfully proceeded registrations from both Canada and the US. :-)

If you are still having a problem let us know and we can check again.

We really appreciate the interest.
