It's official, Microwave Update 2025 is now open for early registrations and hotel reservations.

Please bear with me as I am still working on the tour packages, once those are ready we will announce again at a later date.

For those who are not sure about your availability, we offer free cancellation up to the week prior to the event (October 10th).

If you have any questions, please send them to info@microwaveupdate.org

Thanks

We hope to see you in Tucson!
